

NEW MASTER PLAN OF DELHI PUTS SPOTLIGHT ON ILLEGAL COLONIES

Unauthorised colonies — that house nearly four million people — are an integral part of the city and can't be ignored, urban planning experts said. (Source: HT Archives)

The Master Plan of Delhi-2041 will focus on providing opportunities of regeneration in all typologies of development, especially unplanned residential areas, such as unauthorised colonies, where it is imperative to improve the residents' quality of life, said Mr. Hitesh Vaidya, Director, NIUA in a news article that can be accessed > HERE

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

“1.3 billion Indians have embarked on one mission to make an ‘Aatmanirbhar Bharat’ (self-reliant India). ‘Aatmanirbhar Bharat’ merges the local with the global.”

PROJECT IN FOCUS 'CENTRE FOR DIGITAL GOVERNANCE'

The recently launched Centre for Digital Governance (CDG), anchored at National Institute of Urban Affairs will convene all the digital initiatives of the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs. The Centre is established with a vision to accelerate the digital transformation of urban governance across India. CDG will be the home of the National Urban Innovation Stack and function as a trusted partner for distributed governance. Additionally, CDG at NIUA will specifically tackle common requests from India's states, cities and towns and has already launched two priority programs – Citizen Centric Smart Governance (CCSG) and National Urban Learning Platform (NULP). CDG will establish five practice areas to support State and City Governments, across six key initiatives. Find out more about CDG > HERE

BE A PART OF RE-INVENTING DELHI

Delhi Development Authority in collaboration with the National Institute of Urban Affairs is preparing Delhi's next Master Plan for 2041 and seeks opinion and feedback from the people of Delhi to co-create the vision for MPD-2041.

You are part of RE-INVENTING DELHI!

DDA is preparing Delhi's next Master Plan for 2041 in collaboration with the National Institute of Urban Affairs. As part of the Visioning exercise, we are collecting visions/priorities for the future of the city from the people of Delhi, various stakeholders, line agencies, planning experts and civil society. URJA, URD and East Delhi RWAs Joint Front have graciously extended their support for this outreach programme.

Your priorities will inform the next master plan. We request you to write a maximum of 5 priority statements describing your ideas for the kind of city you want Delhi to be. Your statement should be simple such as "I want a Green Delhi", "Clean air for Delhi", "Delhi's heritage should be celebrated" etc.

Thank you! Provide your feedback > HERE
